

Join us this summer!

Knox College Summer Program August 8-11 and August 14-18, 2017

For 24 years, we have been offering lecture series at the University of Toronto's beautiful downtown campus. We specialize in a diversity of interesting topics presented by speakers who are passionate advocates of their areas of study. There are no requirements other than a "curious mind".

Course A: August 8-11 9:00-11:00 Roseen Giles, PhD, is back for a second year, offering her knowledgeable and personable take on Italian music from the 16th to 20th centuries and its effect on the politics of the times: Italian Music, Culture and Politics from the 16th to 20th Centuries.

Course B: August 8-11 11:30-1:30 John Percy, PhD Emeritus from the Department of Astronomy UT will take us to the outer reaches of the universe in An Astronomical Pot-Pourri.

Course C: August 14-18 9:00-10:30 Tony Burman and Brian Stewart, both veteran journalist and heads of the CBC news departments, and Samantha Stevens-Hall and Sean Kinnear, both PhD candidates in African and Russian History will help us explore Perspectives on the Global Shift to the Hard Right.

Course D: August 14-18 11:00-12:30 Will Huffman from Dorset Fine Arts will speak about Inuit Art from Cape Dorset's West Baffin Eskimo Co-operative. Will is an eloquent advocate for Inuit Art and has deep roots in the Cape Dorset community.
