

CONTINUING EDUCATION FUND

The Presbyterian Church
in Canada

Why pursue continuing learning?

To:

seek spiritual renewal
and growth

reflect on my calling

develop fresh ideas
for worship and
new leadership skills

assist my congregation
through a period
of transition

For the Fund Regulations and Application please go to presbyterian.ca/con-ed-fund or for further information please contact Liz Brewer at ebrewer@presbyterian.ca.

CONTINUING EDUCATION FUND

The Presbyterian Church
in Canada

The purpose of the Continuing Education Fund is to provide financial assistance for continuing education to help professional church workers of The Presbyterian Church in Canada to increase their effectiveness in ministerial service.

- This fund makes financial assistance available to church workers for their professional development.
- The program (workshop, course, conference) must have a minimum number of contact hours and be offered by a recognized organization.
- Applicants must be approved by their presbytery or a church board or agency.
- This fund supplements the allowance provided by the congregation or employer.
- It is expected that the individual applying and their congregation or employer will contribute to the costs of the program.
- The maximum that an individual may receive in any five-year period is $1,500.

For the Fund Regulations and Application please go to presbyterian.ca/con-ed-fund or for further information please contact Liz Brewer at ebrewer@presbyterian.ca.