

May the God of hope fill you with
all joy and peace ... so that you
may abound in hope by the power of the Holy Spirit. - Romans 15:13
(NRSV)

May the God of hope fill you with
all joy and peace ... so that you
may abound in hope by the power of the Holy Spirit. - Romans 15:13
(NRSV)

World AIDS Day
December 1, 2013

World AIDS Day
December 1, 2013

---

World AIDS Day

---

Since 2005, the number of people dying from AIDS-related causes each year has decreased by 30 per cent. New HIV infections have fallen by a third since 2001. More people than ever are accessing the treatment they need to remain healthy and strong. But that doesn't mean it's time to stop taking action.

Together we can ensure that this reversal continues.

Towards Zero New Infections, Zero Discrimination & Zero AIDS-Related Deaths

The Presbyterian Church in Canada is actively working with partners around the world to help people fight against stigma and discrimination, provide access to counselling and HIV testing, and teach and equip people to prevent its spread. Care is provided to people living with the disease and support to orphans and vulnerable children.

We are working towards a world where there are no new cases of HIV and where mothers don't worry about transmitting the disease to their children. We are living in hope of the time when no more people die of AIDS.

This World AIDS Day, we continue to live in hope. As we reflect on the challenges and successes in the fight against AIDS, let us keep in prayer those whose lives remain affected.

Be A Person of Hope!

You can inspire others to learn more and help fight AIDS. Talk about AIDS with family and friends. Advocate for treatment for all. Generously support HIV and AIDS programs by raising funds for PWS&D. Together we live in Christ's hope.

[WeRespond.ca/hiv aids](http://WeRespond.ca/hiv aids)

---

World AIDS Day

---

Since 2005, the number of people dying from AIDS-related causes each year has decreased by 30 per cent. New HIV infections have fallen by a third since 2001. More people than ever are accessing the treatment they need to remain healthy and strong. But that doesn't mean it's time to stop taking action.

Together we can ensure that this reversal continues.

Towards Zero New Infections, Zero Discrimination & Zero AIDS-Related Deaths

The Presbyterian Church in Canada is actively working with partners around the world to help people fight against stigma and discrimination, provide access to counselling and HIV testing, and teach and equip people to prevent its spread. Care is provided to people living with the disease and support to orphans and vulnerable children.

We are working towards a world where there are no new cases of HIV and where mothers don't worry about transmitting the disease to their children. We are living in hope of the time when no more people die of AIDS.

This World AIDS Day, we continue to live in hope. As we reflect on the challenges and successes in the fight against AIDS, let us keep in prayer those whose lives remain affected.

Be A Person of Hope!

You can inspire others to learn more and help fight AIDS. Talk about AIDS with family and friends. Advocate for treatment for all. Generously support HIV and AIDS programs by raising funds for PWS&D. Together we live in Christ's hope.

[WeRespond.ca/hiv aids](http://WeRespond.ca/hiv aids)