Responding to the Crisis in Yemen

Civil conflict in Yemen has produced the worst humanitarian crisis on the planet.

Fighting at the port where most of the country's food arrives has blocked imports and other vital aid shipments. About 16 million people are facing severe hunger.

Conflict has impacted the availability of clean water and sanitation, leading to the worst cholera outbreak in the world.

In the Harib Al Qaramish District, PWS&D is supporting members of Canadian Foodgrains Bank to meet urgent food needs, providing 1,100 vulnerable families with packages of flour, beans, oil, sugar and salt.

To help reduce the spread of disease, PWS&D is responding through a faith-based consortium to bring clean water to over 15,000 people.
