Help PWS&D Respond to Hunger in Africa

Famine has gripped South Sudan, where almost five million people are in urgent need of food. Civil unrest has displaced large segments of the population. Many of those displaced are small-scale farmers who now struggle to feed their families.

In other parts of Africa, El Niño related weather events endure, prolonging drought and leaving millions more facing severe food insecurity.

PWS&D is responding with Canadian Foodgrains Bank to provide emergency food rations for individuals and families in South Sudan and drought-stricken Ethiopia. PWS&D is also helping ensure vital nutrition support for pregnant and lactating mothers and children under five in South Sudan.

The Government of Canada is matching all eligible donations toward famine relief until June 30, 2017. Support PWS&D's response in Ethiopia and South Sudan by giving through your church, mailing a cheque, donating online or calling 1-800-619-7301 x291. Please mark your donation "Famine Relief."
