

World Food Day

"God has filled the hungry with good things..."
Luke 1:53

October 16
is World Food Day—a day designated to raise awareness and action for the 821 million people around the world who do not have enough to eat.

Hunger finds people around the world for many different reasons.

Conflict is the cause of acute food insecurity in 18 countries. Instability that triggers mass displacement and disrupts food production leaves women and men trapped in cycles of hunger and children facing life-threatening malnutrition.

Yemen is currently the world's largest food crisis. In the war-torn country, nearly 16 million people wake up hungry every day.

God created the earth to sustain us, yet hunger and malnutrition persist. This World Food Day, as we pray for healthy food for all, let us remember those burdened by hunger in war-ravaged countries around the world.
